WHO WE ARE

Desert Ironworks is a small business dedicated to providing customers with innovative and creative sculptures for your garden and landscape. It is our goal to create quality parts and unique designs that will stand out from the rest.

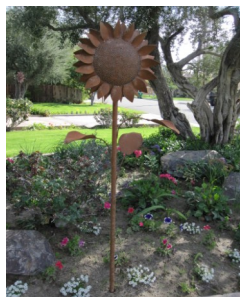

SETTING A STANDARD

These days it is hard to find something that is truly “MADE IN AMERICA.” At Desert Ironworks you can rest assured that the products leaving our facility have been manufactured by American craftsmen in America. Our products are constructed of heavy gauge steel and have been hand worked and finished using traditional methods.

Our products are made to bring years of enjoyment and inspiration into the dwellings and lives of our customers. These sculptures do not have any kind of coating that has a limited life span. We believe that the sculptures should develop and age with their surroundings. No “imitation” coating that is hazardous to the environment is put on any of our products, they are left as natural as they started and will oxidize over time to produce a rich patina that cannot be matched by any manmade process.
